★入試改革対応 スピーキング&ライティング 新クラス開講★

Starting this month Azalea will be extending our curriculum to our conversation classes for Junior High and High School students. This new curriculum will be focused on developing the students' speaking and writing skills.

As you may know, in the coming years many universities in Japan will begin testing speaking and writing skills in their English entrance exams. We are aiming to help students pass those exams with great confidence.

In each conversation class, students will take a practice speaking test. This practice test will help students develop the skills required to achieve higher scores on exams such as Eiken, GTEC, and TEAP.

The skills that Azalea's speaking tests will develop include:

- Reading aloud.
- Reading comprehension.
- Describing situations using pictures.
- Answering questions about everyday life.
- Giving opinions on various topics.

Students will also be assigned writing exercises as homework. These writing exercises will be based on a variety of topics, from expressing preferences, to their opinions on more serious topics. Our goal is to improve students writing comprehension as well as their ability to express their opinions while being mindful of assignment parameters, most importantly word count.

We are very excited about this new curriculum and hope you are too.
